How many drops of CBD oil should I take?

We recommend starting with the recommended dosage of two to three drops three times a day to figure out how many CBD oil drops to take. If no changes are seen after a few days, you can increase the frequency or number of drops.

What is full-spectrum CBD?

Multiple components in a cannabis plant, such as essential oils, terpenes, and cannabinoids, including cannabidiol, make up a full-spectrum CBD product.

Our full-spectrum tinctures are made with 85 percent, or purer, full-spectrum CBD distillate from responsibly farmed American hemp at Euphorium X. Full-spectrum tinctures contain terpenes as well as other cannabinoids like CBG, CBN, and trace THC levels in addition to CBD (less than 0.3 percent). Full-spectrum products are more effective because various cannabinoids and terpenes work together synergistically in what is known as the 'entourage effect.'
